

Miraculous Report From The Doctor

Ps Peter,

Just to let you know the MRI scan that Matthew had today seems good. NO broken bones, ligament or cartilage damage. The reports have to be checked twice more yet but all seems ok. The Dr said if there Radiologist finds anything they will ring in the next 3-4 days.

He has got a cyst due to bleeding but the Dr is saying that is ok.

He DOESN'T NEED an operation PRAISE GOD. He needs physio to strengthen the knee and thigh muscles.

This is great news. Thank you so much for praying for him on Sunday.

When the Dr said it looks ok and no broken bones or cartilage damage Matthew said "See...It must be a miracle because the xray showed the bone was broken". He is so happy and he knows God has been in control and healing him.

Matt is using his crutches tonight and taking weight on his leg. He said there is no pain at all. He hasn't been able to walk on it for 3 weeks. How good is God!!!. His muscles still need to be strengthened but that will all happen.

Blessings,

Julie B.
